Dear friends, colleagues!

I would like to introduce you our third issue of e-journal in 2016 year. As you can see from the content list, this issue is opened with a big lecture by one of the leading specialist in echocardiography – professor V.P. Sedov, dedicated to emergency echocardiography. This is an important question and, I think, all radiologists should be aware of indications and principles of echocardiography role in intense cardiology.

The issue has nine original articles and four clinical cases. The articles are dedicated to various aspects of modern radiology: examination alternatives of coronary vessels by MSCT and coronarography in comparison with intravascular US, discussion of MSCT protocol in midface trauma diagnostics, pre- and postoperative radiology of osteonecrosis in desomorphin dependence patients.

Master-class is presented by a famous specialist, D.Eng.Sc., professor M.I. Zelikman, addressed to important questions of correct exploitation and comprehensive technical equipment's maintenance support. I am sure, our readers will be satisfied with variety and quality of presented materials.

We are waiting for your articles, interesting clinical cases and suggestions for improvement of our e-journal's quality.

Sincerely,
Editor in Chief Sergey K. Ternovoy
