

Letter From the Editor

Dear Readers!

You have received the third issue of the Russian Electronic Journal of Radiology of the 2022 year (REJR, Volume 12, No. 3, 2022).

In this issue, there are two scientific reviews on important clinical topics. The issue also features five original articles and six clinical cases.

As you know, the COVID-19 pandemic caused by the SARS-CoV-2 virus has entered the chronic stage. The incidence decreased, but did not completely ended. Therefore, we will continue the column dedicated to the diagnosis and monitoring of complications caused by the disease as and when interesting articles will be received. We will wait for your interesting cases and continue the column dedicated to this topic.

As always, we are expecting feedback from our readers and authors – reviews, questions and suggestions on the work of the journal.

I wish you all health, prosperity and creative success!

Sincerely,
Chief Editor
Sergey Ternovoy.
